Review of: "Relations between e, π and golden ratios"

Frank Vega

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In my personal opinion, I suggest that the author put this manuscript as a preprint and not as an article in a new version. The reason is that it might have some kind of academic value to non-expert readers (in the same way that it might find value in college classes), but might not have enough merit to be considered a journal article in mathematics. In this way, my good qualification is more in line with the positive that could result in the sense that I have described than in the content of the article itself.