

Review of: "The influence of perceived financial security on social intention entrepreneurs"

Ralph Sonntag¹

¹ Fachhochschule Stralsund

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The topic of social entrepreneurs and their financial security is important.

The methodology is clearly chosen. This methodology enables the research question and the associated hypotheses to be answered.

It would be good to reflect on the research methodology and, if necessary, point out other research approaches.

The benefits and recommendations for action could be presented much more clearly.