

Review of: "Analysis of Factors Influencing Health and Safety Programme in Selected Electricity Distribution Companies"

Nada Jabbour Al Maalouf

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

- The abstract effectively provides a comprehensive overview of the research, encompassing a clear delineation of research objectives, detailed methodology, key findings, and their potential implications.
- While the introduction introduces the topic and outlines the research objectives, it would benefit from incorporating the significance of the study and emphasizing the existing gap in research. Additionally, including explicit research questions would provide a clearer roadmap for readers.
- The literature review is commendably thorough, incorporating both theoretical and empirical perspectives, contributing to a well-rounded understanding of the subject.
- While the methodology is well-presented, a more detailed exposition could enhance clarity. Including information on the philosophical underpinnings, research approach, methodological choices, time horizon, and data analysis tools would offer a more comprehensive understanding beyond the research strategy and sampling method.
- The findings are presented in a lucid and organized manner, facilitating easy comprehension for readers.
- The discussion of the findings is particularly noteworthy, as it not only analyzes the results but also draws insightful comparisons with relevant previous studies, adding depth and context to the interpretation.
- To strengthen the conclusion, it would be beneficial to incorporate a discussion on the limitations of the study, providing a more nuanced understanding of the research's scope and potential constraints.
- The conclusion could be further enriched by including explicit implications and contributions of the study, offering readers a clearer understanding of the broader significance and relevance of the research findings.