The topic "Potential Benefits of Information Technology Trends in Nigerian Tertiary Institutions" is an interesting topic to discuss as it plays a vital role in Nigerian tertiary institutions by gradually dominating several aspects of educational systems.

Nevertheless, in my own point of view, the literature review needs to be elaborated upon in order to accurately depict the current state of funding, skill acquisition among educators and learners, policies in place for Nigerian institutions, and lots more. In other words, the literature review should provide more detailed information rather than giving a broad overview.

Secondly, the author should elaborate more on the applications of VR and AR in tertiary education, potential benefits and limitations of VR and AR integration.

Thanks....
