Dear Author,

Thank you for your contribution to Engineering education. My remarks about your article are the following:

- I think that more than a research article, it is an interesting reflection on the Engineering Education in India; thus, I think it is of local interest.
- About the Research Questions, How have the questions been designed? Were they supported by any sociological research or previous study?
- How many people have participated in the surveys? Has it been a multidisciplinary survey?
- The results presented in table 1, would be better seen in a graph.
- I would recommend writing section 6.2 Suggestion for Future Research after the conclusions.
