Abstract:

- State the total number of participants explicitly.
- In the method, briefly mention the aspects that were interviewed.

Contexts:

- Define what gutti is.

Methods:

- What is the eligibility criteria of the hospital?
- Could you specify how the sampling method might impact the study's validity and suggest any improvements?
- What specific improvements can be suggested for the interview question development process to ensure validity and reliability?

Discussion:

- It was mentioned that parental awareness and willingness to attend the hospital education program were important. Please elaborate more on this. Why does the mother not want to attend the hospital education program? Can you provide examples of how other studies have successfully addressed parental unwillingness to attend educational programs?
- It was mentioned that women appreciated the infrastructure and food services but desired better educational resources. Define the infrastructure that you mean in this sentence. I believe it was mentioned previously in the results, as infrastructure could be in many forms.
- Can you please elaborate on how family dynamics influence parenting education? What are the factors affecting family dynamics?
- Can you suggest specific educational resources or materials that hospitals could implement to address the gaps identified by participants?
