

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Lamellar Ichthyosis

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Lamellar Ichthyosis. NCI Thesaurus. Code C84805.

A very rare, autosomal recessive inherited skin disorder present at birth. It is characterized by the presence of a transparent membrane encasing the newborn. This membrane sheds in about two weeks after birth to reveal generalized scaling and skin erythema.