

Review of: "Women education in Ethiopia"

Nicolas Gaffan¹

¹ University of Abomey-Calavi

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Methodology: Please begin the methodology by briefly describing the framework of your study (Ethiopia).

Results: What are you comparing in Table 1?

Discussion: Please explain your results. Specifically, you have observed that early pregnancies significantly hinder women's education levels; the age of women at first marriage is positively associated with their education level; women from rural areas have fewer education opportunities than urban women, as well as differences based on religious affiliation. Why?

Limitations of the Study: Please conclude the discussion by indicating the limitations of your study.

Generalizability: Please discuss the generalizability of your conclusions.

Political Implications: Please present the political implications of your results.