

Review of: "Integrated decision-making model to enhance the employee-oriented built environment in urban green buildings"

Alaa Shehata¹

¹ Port Said University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Successful holistic review, well-writing of previous works, the following comments can help further this research:

- 1- The abstract should be supported by including the problem this work attempts to solve.
- 2- The circle of stakeholders can expand to facility managers, contractors and sustainability auditors, reference may be needed to refer to 10.1016/j.buildenv.2022.109523 - Stakeholders involvement section.
- 3- It is possible to refer to the behaviour of the occupants and the relationship between them and satisfaction through metabolic heat, building interventions such as room area, blinds, equipment etc.
- 4- Also, the number of employees can be added to the Non-building relating factors affecting employee satisfaction in office buildings.