

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Desmoplastic/nodular medulloblastoma

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Desmoplastic/nodular medulloblastoma. ORPHA:251863

Desmoplastic/nodular medulloblastoma is a histological variant of medulloblastoma (see this term), an embryonic malignancy, often located in one of the cerebellar hemispheres, occurring most frequently in adults and manifesting with symptoms such as vomiting and headache.