

Review of: "NPO vs CSR: Will CSR eliminate the need for NPOs? The case of companies limited by guarantee in the UK"

Sorin Romulus Berinde¹

¹ Babes-Bolyai University of Cluj-Napoca

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The answer to the question of whether CSR would be able to eliminate the need for NPOs in the future can be interesting for the entrepreneurial environment.

In order to increase the visibility of the research, perhaps it would be useful for the author to complete the section dedicated to the abstract with a few brief references to the research methodology used, findings, and perspectives for the continuation of the research. The aspects related to the gap in the literature and the aim of the paper are very well addressed here.

The introductory section could mention these aspects more extensively. Also, with a view to an optimal substantiation of the research results and a more relevant contribution to the conclusions, I would propose that the author expand the aspects related to the research methodology and results.

I hope that the proposals made provide support to the author in order to increase the relevance of the research results.