First of all, I congratulate the team. I think it will be a good contribution to science. With the following minor corrections, it is safe to publish.

1. The sentence "Diospyros kaki L., scientifically known as persimmon" in the abstract needs to be corrected. The similar sentence in the introduction is correct, but the one in the abstract also needs to be corrected.
2. I think it would be more appropriate to remove the table from the "Conclusion" section and add it under the relevant heading.
