

Review of: "The Perception of Nurse Case Care Managers About the Needs of Cancer Patients"

Paolo Landa¹

¹ Université Laval

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The work is overall well done, considering both the methodology and the qualitative model reported. The authors should state more about the recruiting activity and the limited number of respondents, which might provide a bias in the analysis. It is stated at the end but is very short, and it is not clear enough.