The article appears engaging, yet I would like to bring a few points to your attention:

Firstly, I am not familiar with the standard structure of a research paper; however, the purpose and problem statement could potentially be integrated into the Introduction section.

Secondly, the author might consider providing further elaboration in the literature review while condensing the Introduction segment.

Furthermore, I find the discussion and conclusion to be succinct and believe that they could be more comprehensively addressed.

Similarly, the Results section might benefit from enhancements, particularly in terms of presenting the findings in a more professional manner.

In general, the article is well-written, concise, and stays focused on the topic. Minor adjustments could potentially enhance the overall presentation of the research paper.

I extend my best wishes to the author.
