

Review of: "Achieving Sustainability in Smart Cities Mission in India through Universities' Innovation in India"

George Asumadu

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper follows the trend of fourth industrial revolution (4.0) as far as urbanization and development are concerned. For the paper to warrant its credence, the abstract should contain a vivid purpose of the study with brief methodology and main findings or recommendations. These would make readers curious and get to the bottom of the paper for it to get a wider readership.