Review of: "Development of templates to enable countries to apply behavioural science in using global survey data to inform their COVID-19 policies"

Shokhan M. Al-Barzinji[1]

1 University of Anbar

Evaluation: MAJOR REVISION

Dear Editor, please send the research for evaluation again after modifications are corrected by the author

Comments

1- The abstract is poorly written grammatically.

2. Consider breaking down the data into subsections for less demanding coherence.

3. It can be useful to examine any confinements or challenges related to these demonstrative and interventional strategies.

4. The overall article concept is good