Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Is this research being conducted in a Healthcare facility. What is the reason for this? Can be added in the manuscript
2. Who is the sample, children under five or mothers? Differentiate between sample and respondents
3. Include criteria for the children to be discussed
4. What will be the attraction of this review, because the final result does not match the title. There seems to be nothing new compared to other articles that have been written. It could be highlighted about food security issues
5. Is the term acute malnutrition not the same as chronic malnutrition?
