Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Please rename the section 2 heading "the problematic"
2. Introduction, 2nd paragraph: is it necessary to cite 9 references for a general statement without elaboration/further discussions?
3. Introduction, last paragraph: there is no references cited to support the problem statements.
4. The paper studied on two institutions, thus, they are considered as case studies and thus, case studies is recommended to be reflected in the title.
5. Figure 3: please define "other activities"
6. The discussions, are not considered as discussions, as they are more like result explanations. A discussion involve the technical analysis/explanation on why or how the results are measured/obtained.
7. What is the significance of having summary and conclusions. In my suggestion, a conclusion is adequate.
