Review of: "Assessment of COVID-19 from Features Extraction of Exhaled Breath Using Signal Processing Methods"

Savita Sondhi

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Well-structured paper. All figures are clear and explanatory. The method is well explained. Results are presented in detail. The medical application of this study and how it can assist physicians in their work is also mentioned. All sections are well explained. Accepted for publication.