It would be better if detailed information was given about the sample selection and type of the research.

What are the preferred criteria when selecting passive and active students in research? can be written in a descriptive way.

A detailed explanation can be made regarding the validity and reliability of the research.

In the findings section of the research; More detailed information can be given about the answers given by passive and active students in the activity examples. A comparison of the situation of passive students, especially during the activity, with that of active students can be presented.

In the conclusion part of the research, suggestions should be made based on the limitations of the research.
