1. Abstract: In this part, there is a great deal of information and findings. Despite this, I would make two comments to which authors must respond; - The authors must indicate the research design they used for their study within the methodology. - In addition, the originality of the research and the practical implications need to be clarified. Specifically, the authors must indicate the type of contribution their study makes: theoretical, contextual, or/and methodological.
2. In the introduction, there is sufficient background information, as well as sufficient number of references. However, there is a limited amount of space devoted to the research objectives and the way to answer the study questions. Due to this, there is a need for more clarification regarding these issues and updated references at least 2023.
3. The results and discussion of primary data processed has not been presented clearly and analysed properly yet, kindly explore your finding of the research on access to finance, access to land premise, access to technology, communication skill, training, tax amount more details, based on questionnaire response. Where is your finding positioning among previous research, and what is your novelty? Kindly put it also in the conclusion.
4. However, additional outputs need to be reported in addition to the primary analyses based on questionnaire response.
5. Theoretical and practical implication: Expand more this section. It's recommended to separate theoretical and practical implication to subsection with additional explanation and clarification.
