Review Report

The manuscript looks good and is considerable for publication with minor revisions given below:

- i. There are some typos/errors; check throughout the manuscript.
- ii. Cover the study gap with latest articles.
- iii. What is the novelty and main contribution of the work?
- iv. Extended the conclusion with future perspective.
- v. The results and discussion section is written well, but it can be extended further.

After that, I believe that it is acceptable to publish the article in the journal.
