

Review of: "The Role of Nation and State Institutions in Nigeria's Economy: An Empirical Review"

Iryna Shevchenko

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Advantages of the research: 1. The methodology of the research is thoroughly presented. 2. Current research topics Disadvantages: 1. In my opinion, the goal of the research is very vague, it is necessary to structure it more and write the expected result of achieving the goal.

2. It is not clear in the article what is the difference between national and state institutions and whether there is interdependence.

Suggestions: 1. Transfer Table 2 to the theoretical basis

2. to depict with the help of a figure Interdependence between national and national institutions.

in this article is of scientific interest, taking into account the proposals will significantly enrich the current research.
