Thank you for inviting me to review this article. I have some suggestions for the authors for improvement of the manuscript.

1. Abstract:

It should be brief and precise to let readers know the sampling, method, main results within about 200 words. The hypothesis and T values do not need to be presented here.

2. Introduction

It is suggested that the authors clearly and logically clarify the main concepts and their relationships in the literature review, with existing research progress, the purpose, hypothesis and significance of this study. For example, -the authors cite the study of "The Influence of Teacher Personality Competence on Learning Motivation of MTSN 2 Bone Students in Bone Regency" to state the importance of teacher's personality. But it is confusing to understand. -in the page 4/17 "Parents' background has indicators, namely: parents' educational level, parents' personality, and marital status or absence of one of the parents. While the indicator of the socio-economic status of parents is whether or not parents can afford to pay for their children's education". Generally, parents' educational level, occupation and family income are often used as indicators of family socioeconomic status.

3. III. Result and Discussion/III. Discussion:

-The two subtitles seem a little confusing.
- From A to E, authors introduced the research variables, Data collection technique, Instruments and methods of statistical analysis, etc. However, it is difficult to find and understand the direct and indirect relationships between background and socio-economic of the teacher's parents on the personality of the Christian teacher in the current statistical analysis. The results of the analysis should be presented more clearly and should be explained and discussed.

In conclusion, this article should focus on the research topic, with a clear theoretical framework, logical literature review, more scientific result analysis and discussion. Finally, I think this article need major revision.
