Review of: "SnakeChat: a conversational-AI based app for snake classification"

Chirag Joshi

While the presented work demonstrates commendable quality, its strength could be further enhanced by incorporating a comprehensive literature review to contextualize findings within existing research. Additionally, a comparative analysis with other methods would fortify the study, providing a holistic perspective and potentially identifying areas for improvement or innovation.