

Review of: "A Conceptual Review of Discontinuity in Urban Design: The Morphological and Ethical Dimensions"

Francesca Giglio¹

¹ University of Reggio Calabria

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is a critical review of the concept of urban discontinuity, systematizing and elaborating on the different declinations of the concept through a multidisciplinary approach that gives added value to the contribution. The paper presents a clear and well-defined articulation in its main aspects and is enriched by many bibliographical references. The treatment, therefore, is satisfactory as a whole and makes an excellent contribution in terms of advancing and integrating knowledge on the topic.