

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Hemorrhagic Fever with Renal Syndrome

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Hemorrhagic Fever with Renal Syndrome. NCI Thesaurus. Code C84753.

A disorder caused by hantaviruses of the family Bunyaviridae. It is transmitted by rodents and is manifested with fever, hemorrhage, and renal failure. Other symptoms include headaches, abdominal and back pain, and blurred vision.