The reviewer would like to thank the authors for the efforts made in developing this work and preparing the related manuscript. The manuscript has the potential to be published in the journal, however, it contains some weaknesses that should be improved. Therefore, it is intended to allow the authors to make a major revision of their paper so that it can be re-decided after it has been applied below modifications.

1. When you write "HIE" for the first time in the article, its full name must be written before that (paragraph 2, line 6).
2. Each and every sentence that does not express the findings of the research (article), must have a citation.
3. In the section climate and crime, paragraph 3: it is better to show it in a table according to years. It helps understand better.
4. Consider a table for the Literature review.
5. Write the unit of numbers in Tables 1 and 2.

Good luck,
