

Review of: "Fear Factors in Open Spaces – Children's Perception of Public Open Spaces"

Fatma Senol¹

¹ Izmir Institute of Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This is an important research subject. The paper requires a new introduction that briefly discusses how it contributes to the literature. A more extensive discussion about children's spatial perceptions in international contexts, particularly in India, would better guide the reader in understanding the significance of the results. Additionally, the methodology can benefit from a more detailed explanation of how the analysis evolves.