Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The Introduction part talks more about the technique i.e. CAI and ChatGPT while the paper should be focused on the problem which is being solved using these techniques. Hence, introduction should clearly mention the major domain i.e. snake classification problem, possible solutions and benefit to the general society.
2. Place the figures right before the explanation.
3. Use large size font for diagrams.
4. The article requires a proper flow which includes the literature survey as well.
5. The article may be more effective if followed proper flow of the section.
