Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article represents the effort of the authors in understanding the mechanisms that link the levels of obsession, fear, and self-care behaviors evaluated by validated scales to vaccination in the COVID-19 pandemic.

The inclusion criteria are well-explained. The study is limited to a town in Iran.

The questionnaires used in the study are described, and the citations are presented.

The discussions are logical and explain the findings. They also are correlated with the findings of other authors.

The paper is of good quality and may be published.
