

Review of: "Analysing crimes in public spaces of New Delhi through news reports: The need and possibility of integrating Crime Prevention through Environmental Design Principles."

L.W. Fanggidae¹

¹ Universitas Nusa Cendana

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This article raises a very interesting topic and is rarely studied by other scholars. The methods used are very rich, using a variety of instruments. It would be very good if the author explained more concisely and simply the stages of the research carried out so that readers could quickly understand how this research was carried out and how the author could draw conclusions as written in this paper.