

Review of: "Crime Prevention through Environmental Design in Healthcare Facility: A Study of Sehat Al Sharq at Al Khobar, KSA"

Babafunso Adenuga

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Environmental design seems a novel way of evaluating crime prevention methods within a healthcare facility. Some issues I picked up are below

1. No reference to the approval of the pictures included in this article by the relevant authority.
2. There is no ethical approval for this study from a recognised Ethics Committee.
3. The punctuations might have to be reviewed by the authors. This will help readers get the right information that the authors intend to pass across.