Reviewer Notes for Authors

1. This was a good manuscript, and the title is precise and attentive
2. In the abstract, the study design acquired all the relevant information, and the study is framed in working terms.
3. In this descriptive cross-sectional study, the introduction outflow is clear and indicates the problem at hand, as well as the motivating factors leading to that which is being studied.
4. In methods and materials, no patient information on drug addiction or substance use was provided, and the authors did not mention exclusion criteria.
5. Authors proficiently summarize all tables and figures, although table and figure legends are missing.
6. The discussion part is detailed and constructed on reliable results.
7. The conclusion part is precise, narrow, and constructed on reliable results.
8. Authors should add some lines and highlights on how the recent study will be effective for society and what the future implementation will entail
