Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The article is very interesting and can make a great contribution to society at large.
2. The article should also provide a section on Literature Review , a section on Recommendations and also a section on Conclusion so that the readers are clear.
3. Page 2 , should introduce a little bit about the program before asking question (last sentence in the first paragraph)
4. Page 2, why back to explain /give statistics after posing the question?
5. Starting from para 3 (page 2) can put them under Literature Review
6. Page 3 , 1st sentence in para 4 (...leading divorce rates in the world) -should put source or reference, if not, it can be an assumption.
7. Page 4, under 2.2 , can explain a bit about the criteria of respondents
8. It is good to explain more about Figure 2 and Figure 3 in the Discussion because those are the interesting findings
9. Discussion should also add some critical opinions , not just comparing the past study results with the results of the current study.
