As I mentioned in my previous review, the paper is very interesting to read, is well written and well organized. In my previous review however, I asked the author to elaborate “more explicitly” on the contribution made by the article towards the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Can I kindly ask the author to point at the paragraph(s) that were added/included to cover this gap. I prefer the author indicate clearly which SDGs the paper covers in specific. Once this note is included, you have my full acceptance for the paper to be published.
