

Review of: "Evaluating Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) Principles in Educational Institutions: Occupant Insights"

Audi Yundayani

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Congratulations on completing your research project. Please consider expanding your research background, including explaining why it is interesting or important. Typically, this is achieved with a catchy introduction that conveys the significance of your topic. Consider a fascinating fact that will pique the reader's interest in your topic. In addition, I suggest you clarify the research methodology and elaborate your research discussion by explaining and evaluating what you discovered and demonstrating how it relates to your literature review and research topic. Good Luck.