The manuscript is good, but there are still many unanswered questions.

Line number (175): correct the figure

Line number (189-192): correct the grammar

Line number (358-359): correct the figure and enhance the quality of the figure

Further, in this form, the version is good, but the majority of the latest references are missing.

Revise the whole abstract as per the objectives with more intelligibility. The article's English is very poor, and several sentences are very long.

There are also no comparisons between the approaches. Please update the acknowledgement and funding statements, as well.

In addition, edit several references and add some key comments concerning the work's benefits and drawbacks.

This manuscript can be accepted for publication after a critical revision.

Other critical revisions required:

Firstly, an abstract should summarize the major aspects of the entire paper:

- 1) the overall purpose of the study
- 2) the basic methodology of your research
- 3) the major findings as a result of your analysis
- 4) a brief summary of your interpretations and conclusions.

Additional representative up-to-date references should be added such as the ones from:

(2023). Integrated hesitant fuzzy-based decision-making framework for evaluating sustainable and renewable energy. International Journal of Data Science and Analytics, 1-20.

(2021). Predicting software bugs of newly and large datasets through a unified neuro-fuzzy approach: Reliability perspective. Advances in Mathematics: Scientific Journal, 10(1), 543-555.

(2018). Soft computing approach for prediction of software reliability. ICIC Express Letters, 12(12), 1213-1222.

Pay attention to the usage of articles.

Pay attention to the space/punctuation marks between words.

Please make sure that your paper has no basic grammar errors.
