

Review of: "Factors Influencing Access to Credit for Rural People in Ethiopia"

Faradiba Faradiba¹

¹ Universitas Kristen Indonesia

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

| | |
|------------------------------|--|
| Abstract | more clarified for the results of the study, dominant variable added |
| Introduction | comprehensive in explaining the research background |
| Methodology | variables and their definitions are well presented and clear. the data analysis technique used is appropriate |
| Results and Discussion | of the several factors/variables used in the study should be conveyed which factor is dominant over the others. otherwise the factors that are not significant are also conveyed. should be equipped with graphics to make it easier for readers to understand the paper briefly |
| References (Appropriateness) | Less than 32% of the references used are from articles over the last 10 years References should use the most recent references |