

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Laryngotracheoesophageal cleft type 4

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Laryngotracheoesophageal cleft type 4. ORPHA:93941

Laryngo-tracheo-esophageal cleft (LC) type 4 is a serious congenital respiratory tract anomaly characterized by a cleft extending into the thoracic trachea and possibly down to the carina, with respiratory distress.