1. Please ensure that you have given the abbreviation as and when required. For example LPWAN full form is not given in the abstract.
2. The abstract can be reduced and should be focused on the key objective of the paper.
3. A figure in the introduction section related to IoT and LoWPAN can be included to increase the readability.
4. Section 3.2 can be removed from section 3 and it should be add to the introduction section.
5. In the result section, the authors have given comparison between proposed and existing method. However, it is confusing as which exiting method has been compared is not clear. I suggest the authors to separately compare each of the results from the existing research and the proposed method results.
