Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The theme addressed in the manuscript is extremely important and can be a reference for future research. However, theoretically a more exhaustive review is needed, so it is necessary to add bibliographic references of no more than five years old.

Likewise, it is required to specify in the methodology section: the nature of the investigation, its Approach, Paradigm, Method, Techniques, Instruments and Data Analysis.

Regarding the results, it is necessary to compare them with other theoretical references.

The bibliography must be written according to the editorial norms of the journal.
