

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Linker-Oligonucleotide

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Linker-Oligonucleotide. NCI Thesaurus. Code C1942.

Typically used in biomedical research, Linker-Oligonucleotides are usually short nucleic acids (DNA) that bridge or link, by complementary base pairing, two nucleic acids related by sequence and that lead to extension of the nucleic acid molecule. (NCI04)