

Review of: "The Role of Green Legacy in Promoting Sustainable Development and Combating Climate Change"

Fatima Kies¹

¹ University of Milan - Bicocca

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The article's subject is within the journal's scope.
2. This is a new and original contribution.
3. The quality of the English language is satisfactory.
4. The text is clear and concise.
5. The presentation, organization, and length of the article are satisfactory.
6. The illustrations and tables are necessary and of acceptable quality.
7. All tables and figures (and their captions) are justified and clear enough.
8. The methods are appropriate and described with sufficient detail.
9. The data and results are interesting.
10. The discussion and conclusions are clear enough because they are justified by the data.
11. The references are adequate, and they are all necessary. But the Cited references must be written according to the recommendations of the journal.

Yours Sincerely