

Open Peer Review on Qeios

X-linked intellectual disability-plagiocephaly syndrome

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. X-linked intellectual disability-plagiocephaly syndrome. ORPHA:2898

A rare, syndromic intellectual disability characterized by severe intellectual deficit, brachycephaly, plagiocephaly, and prominent forehead in male patients. Females may display moderate intellectual deficit without craniofacial dysmorphism. There have been no further descriptions in the literature since 1992.