Interesting subject matter. This could turn out in a excellent piece with some revisions.

The abstract is too long – reduce to essentials of what the problem is, what are the gaps in knowledge, what are your main findings and possible solutions.

Make sure that all chemical symbols are correct.

There is lack of scientific reference back-up.

the text could be more succinct. Try and condense.

Compare possible solutions by referencing articles from across the globe where these suggested adaptations have been successful or maybe not as successful.
