

Review of: "A Brief Summary of Prompting in Using GPT Models"

Andry Alamsyah¹

¹ Telkom University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I find the paper to be very useful as a guide for readers seeking to understand and reason about how ChatGPT and generally large language models work. The authors provide extensive references to real-world use cases and also present arguments for the future of ChatGPT and generally LLM models. I believe that some examples of "good" and "bad" prompting should be included as references. For non-native speakers, the language used may be somewhat difficult to follow, for example, the title of Section 4.