Dear Authors,

Overall, your work carries much importance and provides strong insights. However, the current draft needs some revisions to ensure its suitability for further publication. I have provided the following suggestions to improve your work accordingly.

Abstract

1. The abstract is well-written. However, you can discuss the recommendations without elaborating on them. Focus on the APA abstract writing structure.

Introduction

1. Now that Covid-19 has passed and the intense pandemic is now considered as having small outbreaks, the use of "has" does not justify your work in 2024. Look into this issue.
2. The introduction is quite brief, but more is needed to justify the problem and outline the objectives and gaps. What is your focus and why? In what context? With what aims? Moreover, what would be the benefit of addressing them? Mention in your introduction.
3. Now, empirical LR is almost absent, which weakens your research. The theory is given, which is good, but empirical LR, focusing on your research hypotheses, is also required. Please add.

Methodology

1. The methodology is well-written but needs to be more specific so that it insufferably justifies the applied approaches. First, the study design, data gathering tools, their overview, and argumentation justifying the use of specific approaches are all needed to be included. For this purpose, I suggest focusing on how to write this part.

Results

This part is shockingly merged with the conclusion, while the conclusion is considered the last part of a research project.

Follow the above and the suggested work for writing the results because currently, the results need to reflect what you have actually acquired.

Add separate headings for the discussion to reflect the overall findings.

Add limitations and merge them with recommendations in paragraph form. General research papers do not contain bullets and numbers.

I wish you the best of luck!
