The article is well-written, and an extensive review was made.

The subject of the paper is important and deserves attention.

However,

1-The English needs to be revised properly.

2-Is it possible to classify the waste (hazardous, non-hazardous, inert, or non-inert)?

3- Most of the references were published more than 10 years ago. Only 10 percent of references are from 2019 to 2022. It is interesting to add some more current references from the last 5 years.
