I have gone through the work presenting Green Strategies for the Synthesis of Quinolone Derivatives. There are major revisions that need to be addressed prior to reaching a final decision:

- The manuscript needs thorough revision to improve the text quality and readability of the work.
- None of the structure is in .cdx or any other prescribed format. They are included as images.
- There is a major need for grammar and language. The majority of the sentences are not properly written.
- References are not cited properly; kindly check all references.
